Additional Information

Agency Name: Environmental Protection Agency

Description: This notice announces the availability of funds and requests applications to improve water quality, habitat, resilience, and environmental education through the demonstration of innovative practices on working lands. Projects activities must improve water quality, habitat, or resilience within the Gulf of Mexico watershed. Collaboration and outreach with farmers is required, while partnerships between organizations are encouraged. This funding is available to develop innovative practices within farming communities, measure the results of those practices, and identify how the practices will be incorporated into farming operations.
